PostalPro™ Updates

On the evening of May 14, 2019 PostalPro™ will deploy a fresh, new look to comply with established USPS style guidelines and address some of the layout issues that were brought to our attention by the mailing industry. The user impact will be minimal as the navigation, search functionality and locations of the material will not change.

Additionally, a new commercial frequently asked questions page has been developed as the home page for the Mailing and Shipping Solutions Center. This new page provides curated answers to a wide range of topics and is now live at <https://postalpro.usps.com/solutions>.
